I know what the caged bird feels, alas!

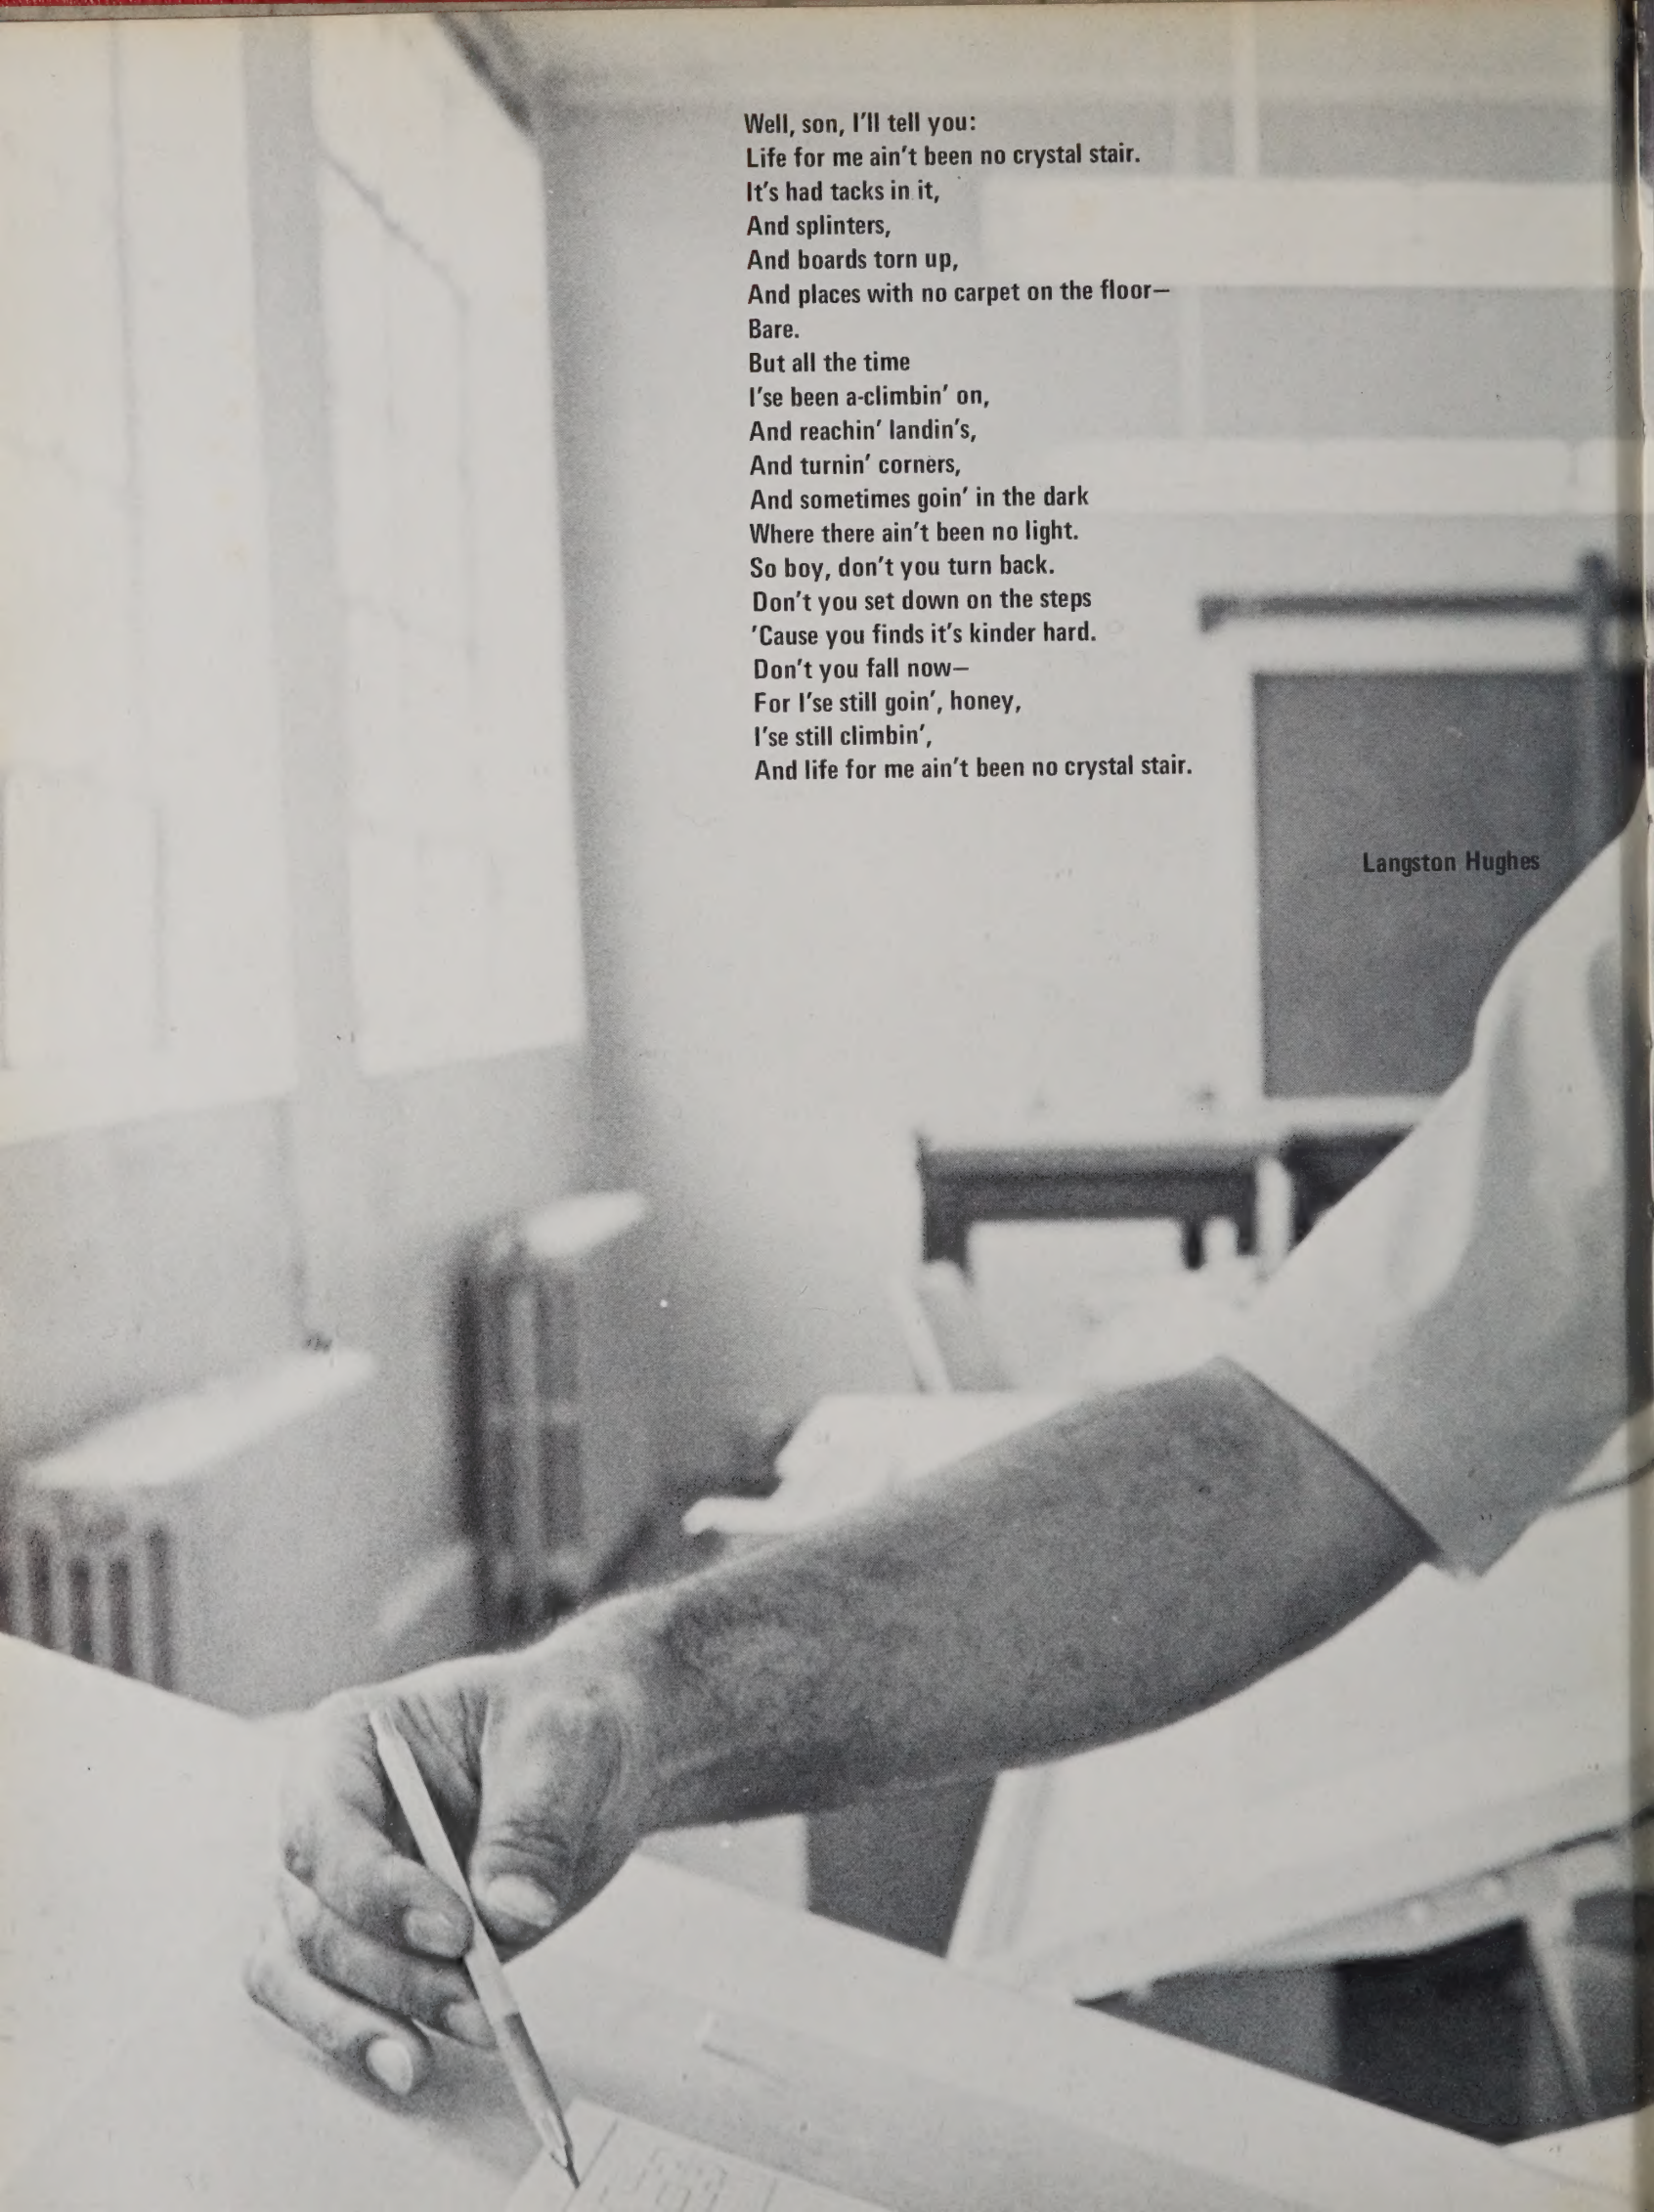

When the sun is bright on the upland slopes;
When the wind stirs soft through the springing grass,
And the river flows like a stream of glass;
When the first bird sings and the first bud opes,
And the faint perfume from its chalice steals —
I know what the caged bird feels!

I know why the caged bird beats his wing,
Till its blood is red on the cruel bars;
For he must fly back to his perch and cling
When he fain would be on the bough a-swing;
And a pain still throbs in the old, old scars
And they pulse again with a keener sting —
I know why he beats his wing!

I know why the caged bird sings, ah me,
When his wing is bruised and his bosom sore, —
When he beats his bars and he would be free;
It is not a carol of joy or glee,
But a prayer that he sends from his heart's deep core,
But a plea, that upward to Heaven he flings —
I know why the caged bird sings!

Paul Laurence Dunbar

Well, son, I'll tell you:
Life for me ain't been no crystal stair.
It's had tacks in it,
And splinters,
And boards torn up,
And places with no carpet on the floor—
Bare.
But all the time
I've been a-climbin' on,
And reachin' landin's,
And turnin' corners,
And sometimes goin' in the dark
Where there ain't been no light.
So boy, don't you turn back.
Don't you set down on the steps
'Cause you finds it's kinder hard.
Don't you fall now—
For I've still goin', honey,
I've still climbin',
And life for me ain't been no crystal stair.

Langston Hughes

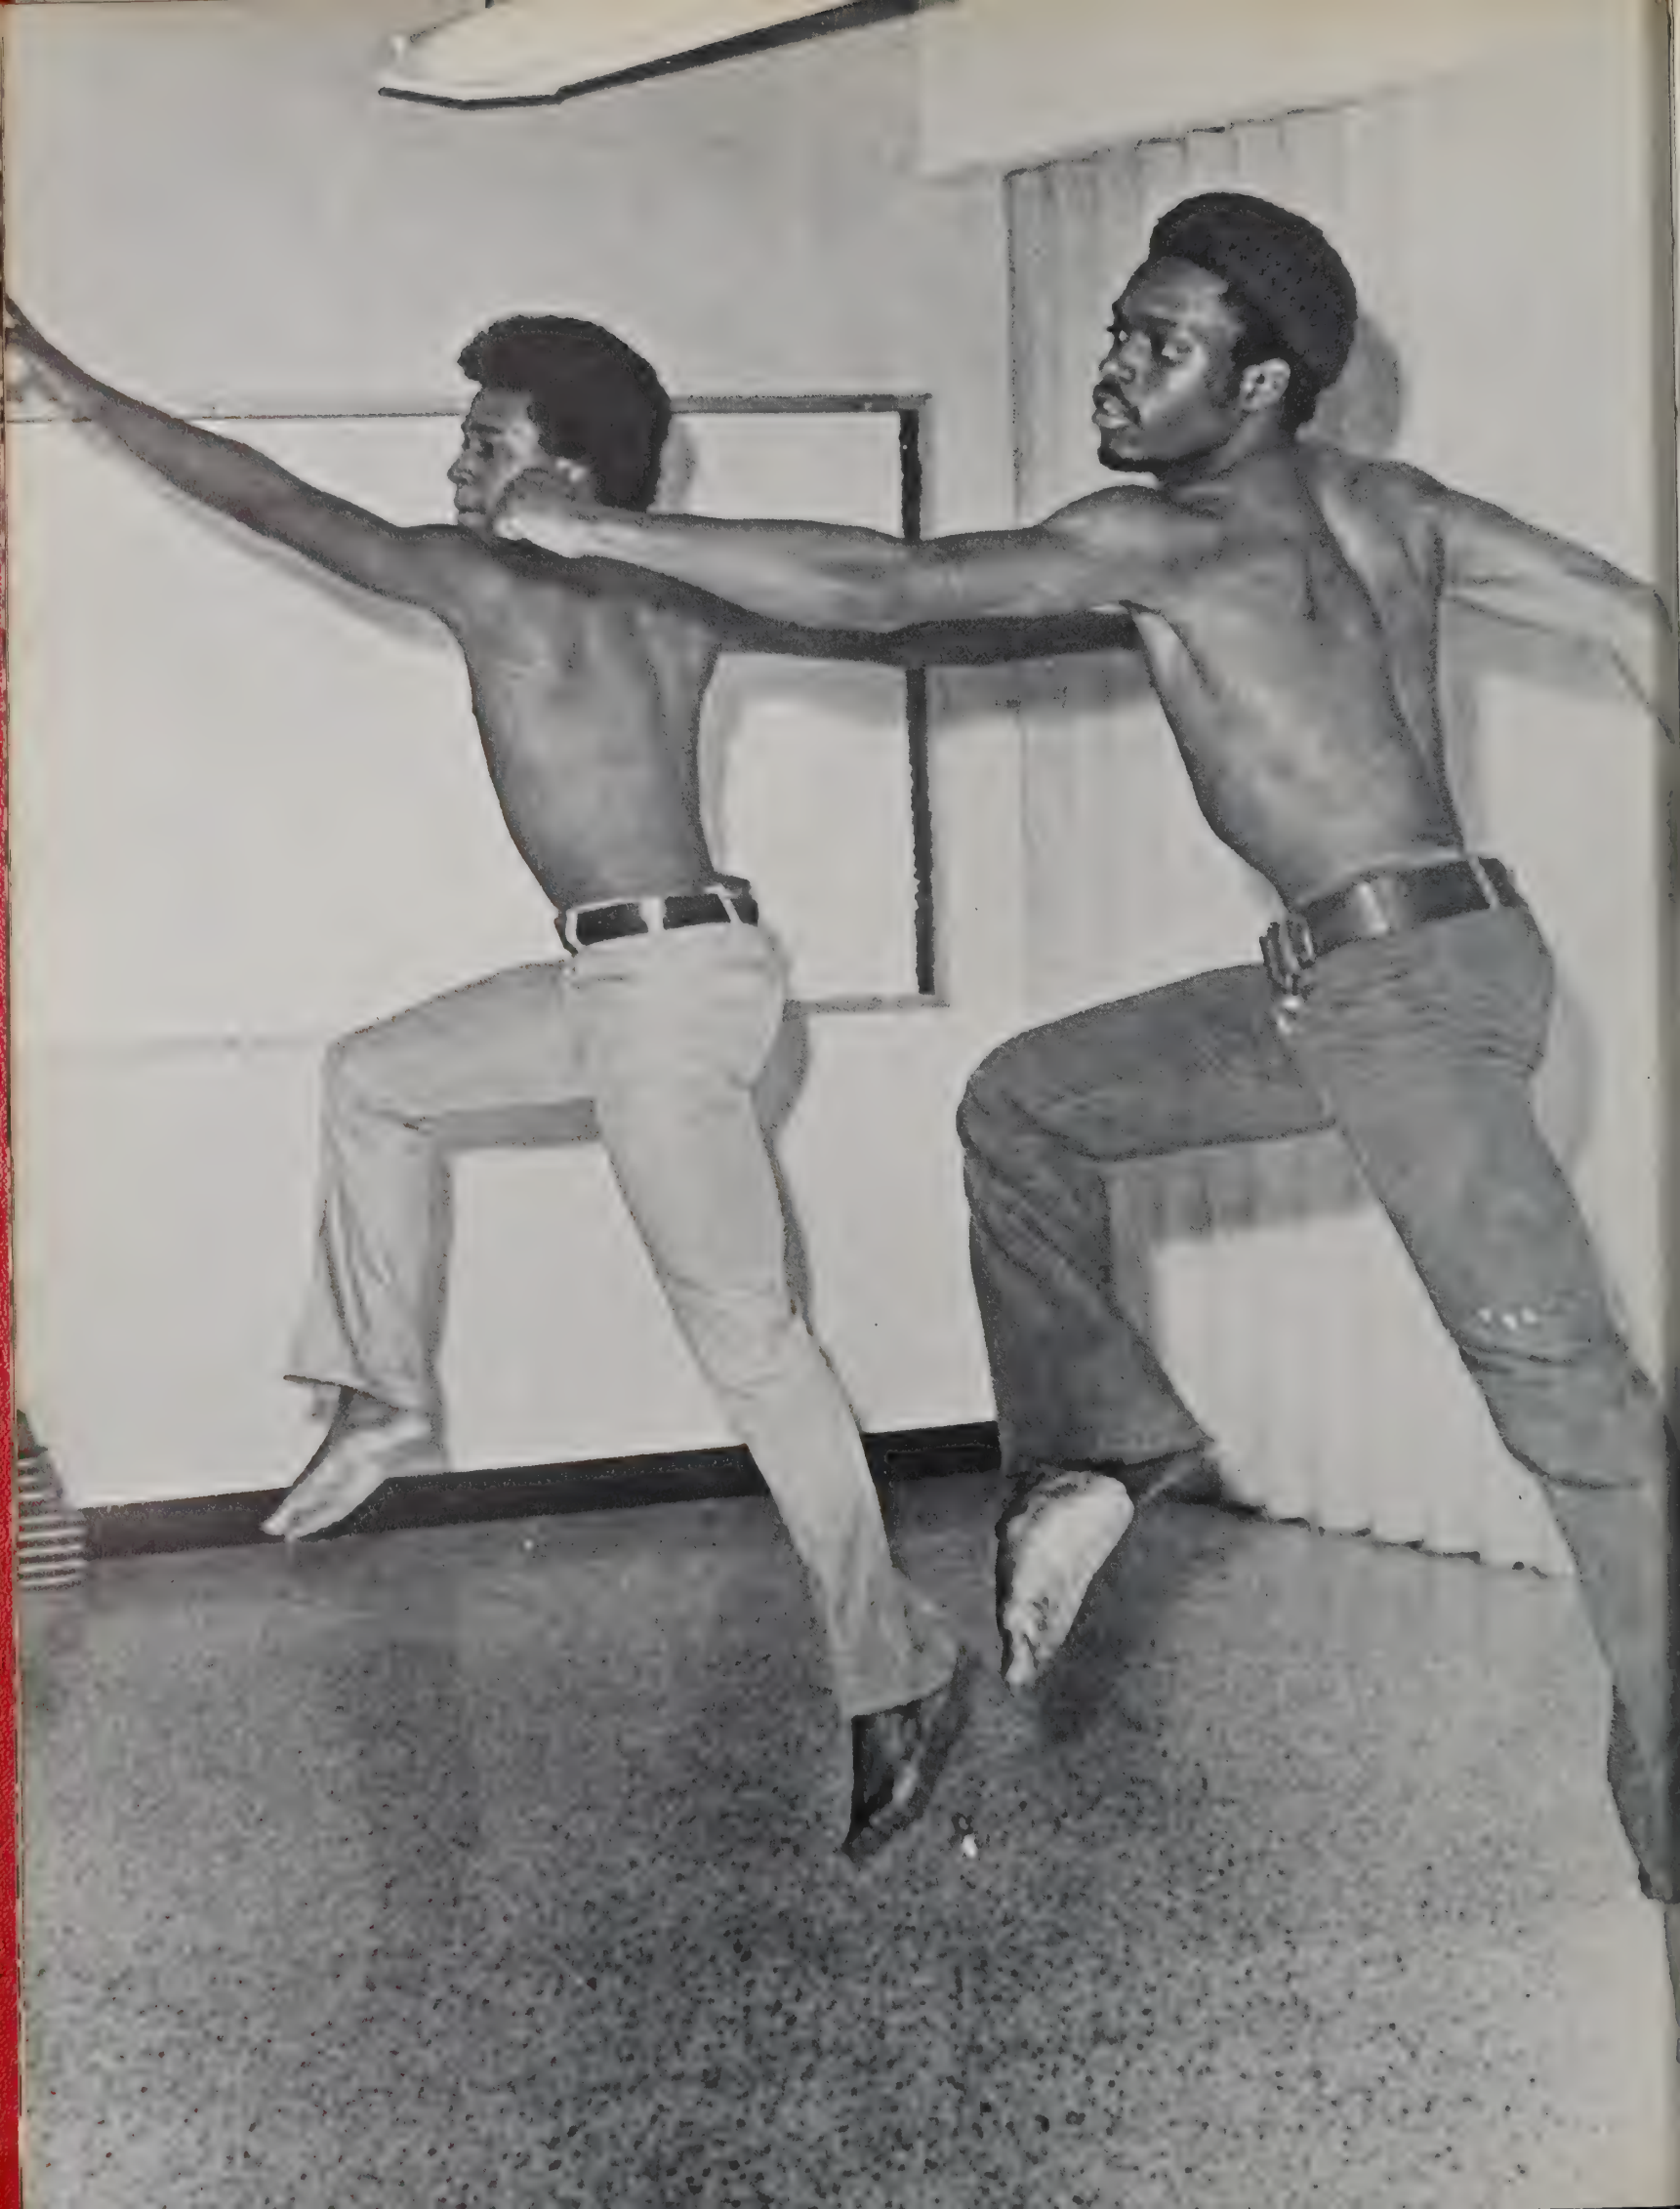

God knows
We have our troubles, too —
One trouble is you:
you talk too loud,
cuss too loud,
don't get anywhere,
and sometimes it seems
you don't even care.
And the way you lounge on doorsteps
the way you sit down —
the way, in other words, you let me down —
and you —
well, you can see,
we have our problems,
too, with you.

Langston Hughes

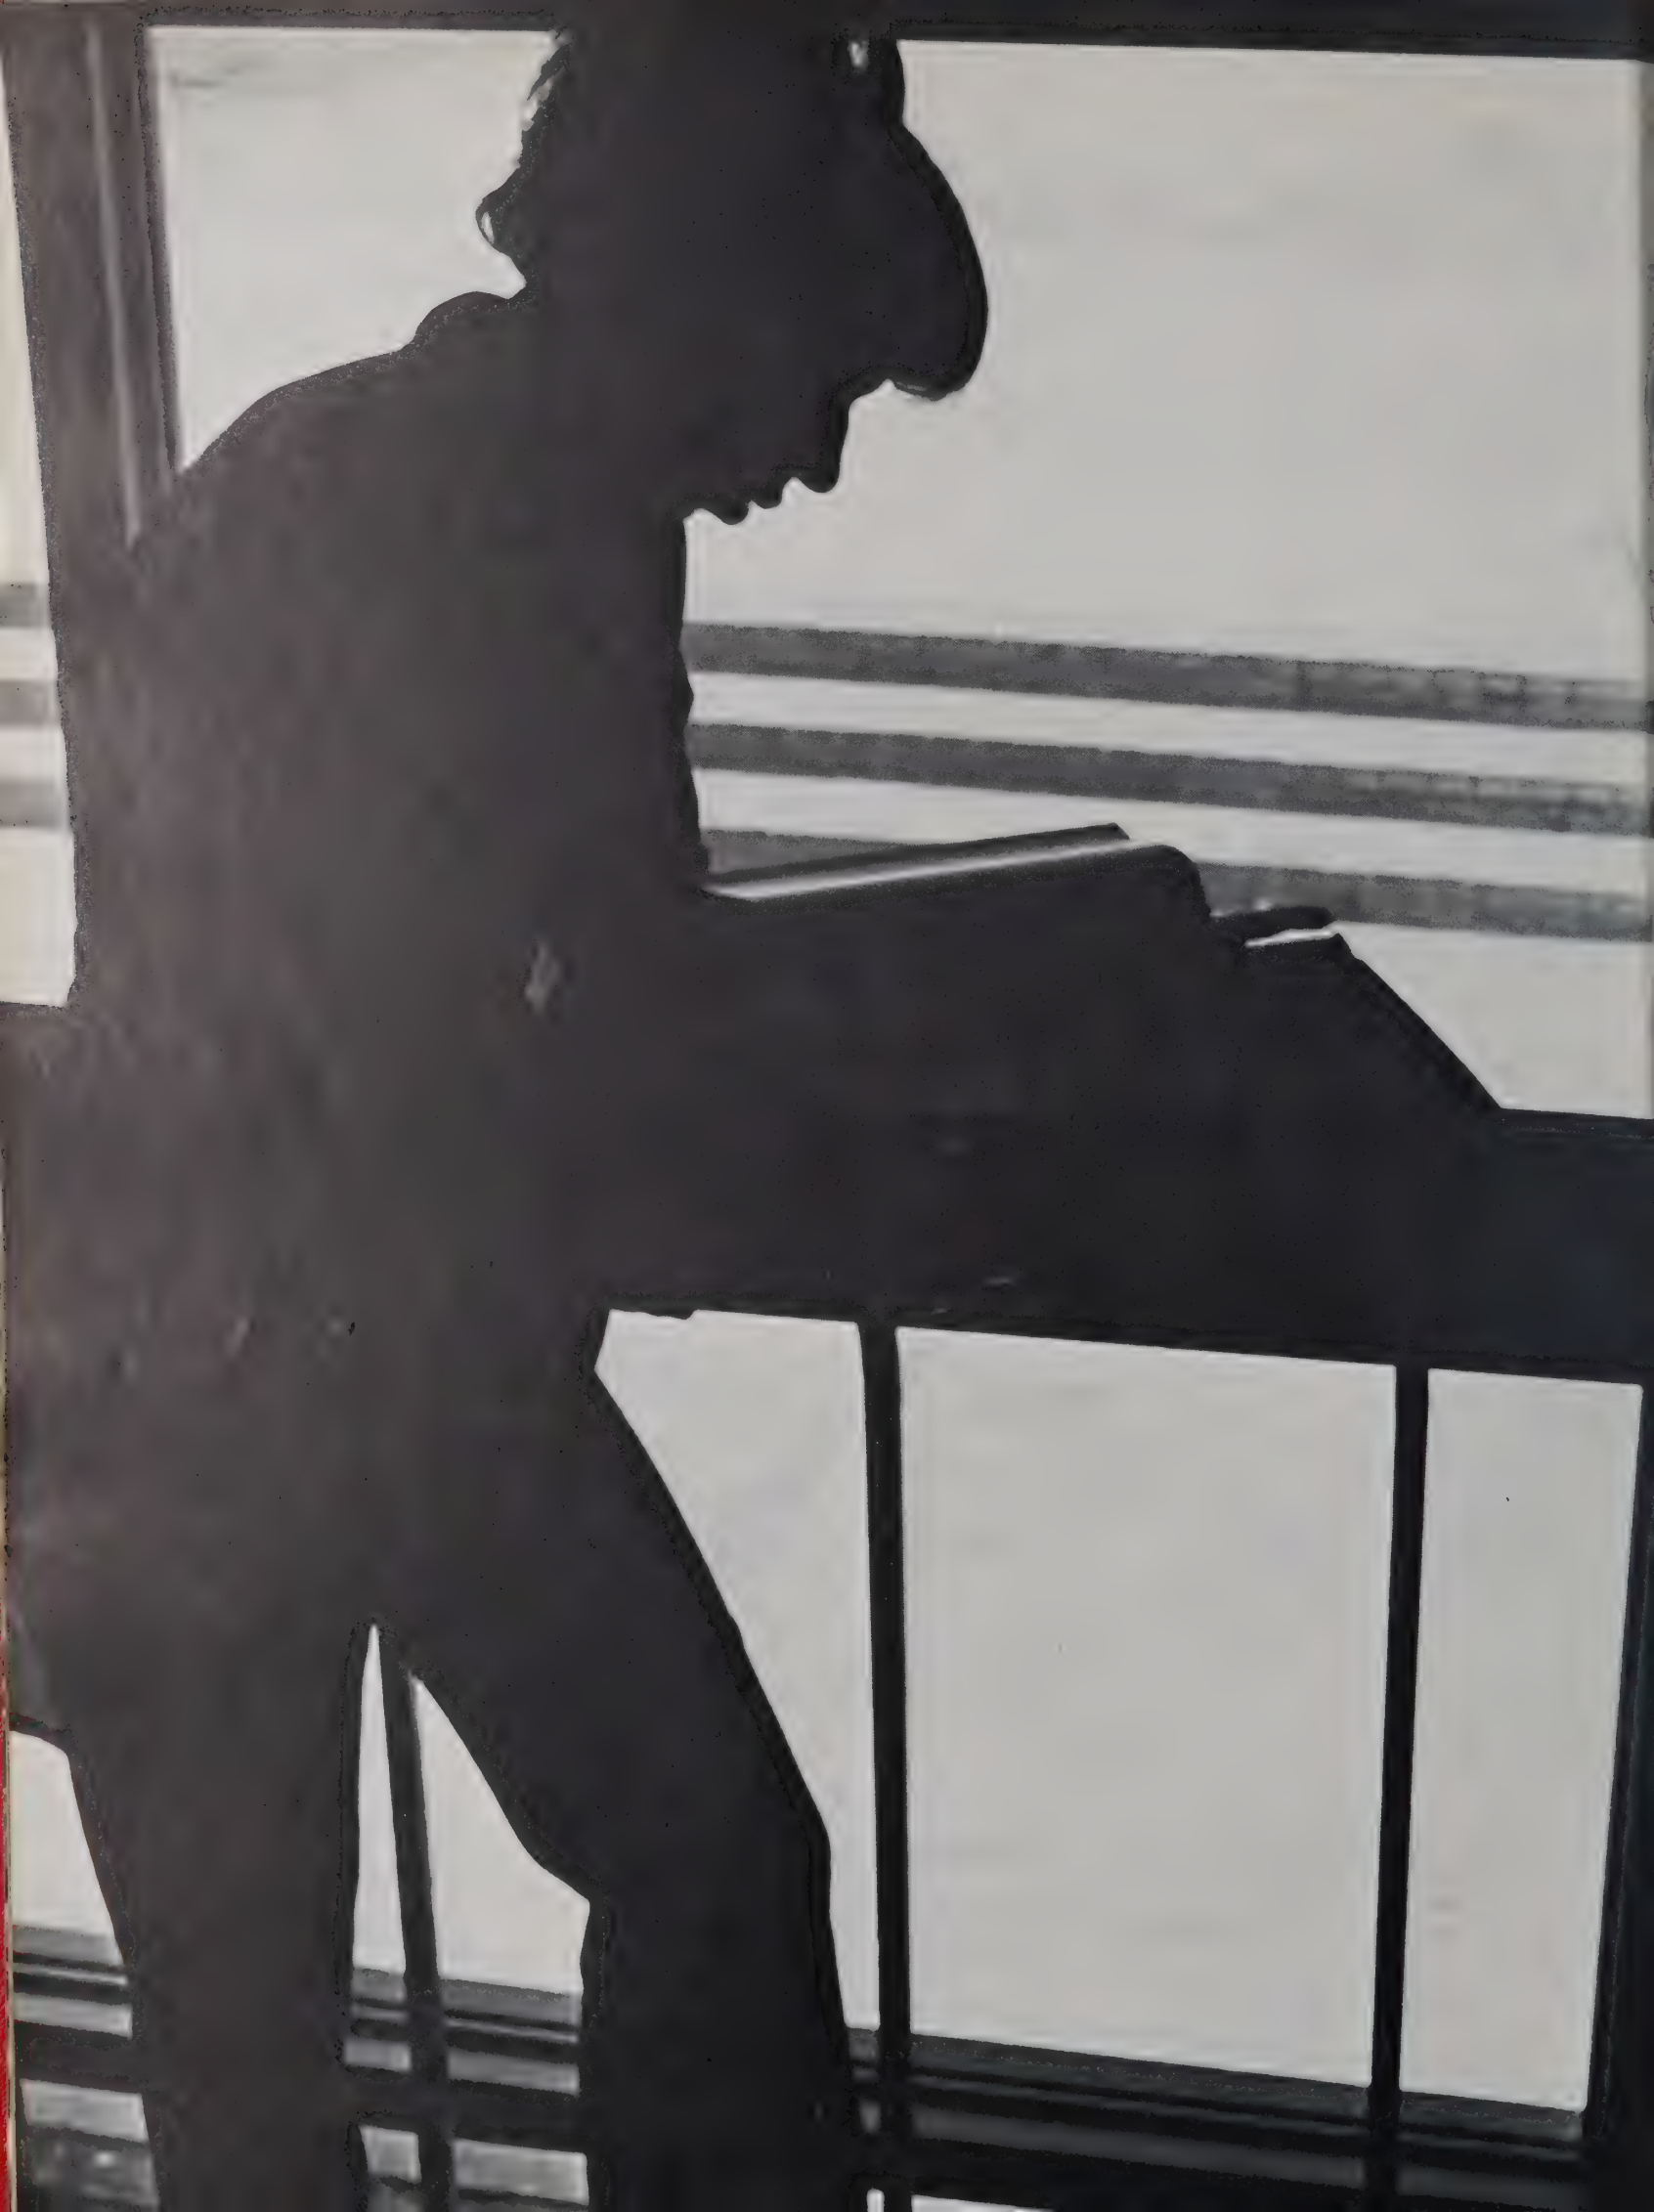

"Me an' ma baby's
Got two Mo' ways,
Two mo' ways to do de Charleston!
Da, da,
Da, da, da!
Two mo' ways to do de Charleston!

Soft light on the tables,
Music gay,
Brown-skin steppers
In a cabaret.

"Me an' ma baby's
Got two mo' ways,
Two mo' ways to do de Charleston!

ington Hughes

Lift ev'ry voice and sing,
Till earth and heaven ring,
Ring with the harmonies of Liberty;
Let our rejoicing rise High as the list'ning skies,
Let it resound loud as the rolling sea.
Sing a song full of the faith that the dark past has taught us;
Sing a song full of the hope that the present has brought us;
Facing the rising sun of our new day begun,
Let us march on till victory is won.

Stony the road we trod,
Bitter the lessons we learned,
Felt in the days when hope unborn had died;
Yet with a steady beat,
Have not our weary feet Come to the place for which our father sighed?
We have come over a way that with tears has been watered;
We have come, treading our path thro' the blood of the slaughtered,
Out from the gloomy past, Till now we stand at last
Where the white gleam of our bright star is cast.

I, too sing America.

I am the darker brother.
They send me to eat in the kitchen
When company comes,
But I laugh,
And eat well,
And grow strong.

Tomorrow,
I'll sit at the table
When company comes.
Nobody'll dare
Say to me,
"Eat in the kitchen,"
Then.

Besides,
They'll see how beautiful I am
And be ashamed, —

I, too, am America.

1972

Mr. Stewart Thompson, Adviser; Mrs. Sara Waymer, Adviser; Willie Gilmore, Vice-President; Barbara Belton, Secretary; Frank Drayton, President.

To the Class of 1972

To our seniors and super-seniors: As you approach completion of your tenure here as immediate members of the South Carolina State College Family, it is hoped that as you begin to reflect upon your experiences over the years of your association with us, you will conclude that your stay and association with this college family has been a meaningful and rewarding adventure.

I am certain that as you reflect you will recall instances and perhaps occasions with which you were not in complete agreement with decisions and policies which might have been formulated here and which affected you. This is not surprising for indeed this is life. You can be sure that these decisions were made in the best interest of the State College Family. Your stay here is just the beginning of an uphill fight to carve your notch in the society in which we live.

You can be certain that you will encounter numerous obstacles as you move forward. Any contribution that the institution has made in preparing you for just such instances or occasions we hope has been a very meaningful one in preparing you for your life's work.

As you depart from your Alma Mater we sincerely solicit your continued interest and support, for without them the institution can not grow, prosper and prepare itself to serve those who will follow you.

By all means we are hopeful that you will keep in touch so that we might keep abreast of your careers.

Congratulations to each of you and we wish you God speed!

As a professional training unit of the college, the School of Education is engaged in programs designed for training pre-service and in-service teachers. It comprises five departments, namely; Department of Education, Health and Physical Education, Library Service, Music and Fine Arts, and Psychology. The Felton Laboratory School is also a division of the School of Education.

The Department of Education is exploring issues in teacher education as a basis for a plan of reform that will seek to discover new and more significant forms of education and better ways and means of making organized educational opportunities available and meaningful to each student.

As presently structured, the Department of Education offers (1) majors in Kindergarten and Elementary Education, (2) areas of concentration in Special Education and Reading, and (3) service courses in professional education for majors in all departments of the College where teacher education is the goal. The Department also offers, on the graduate level, minors in Guidance, Special Education, and Elementary Education.

The Curriculum of the Health and Physical Education Department embraces a wide range of approaches to learning through a diversified programs of liberal, general and professional education courses and a program of physical activities which includes aquatic, rhythmic, sports, gymnastics and developmental experiences.

Besides the broad curriculum offerings, the department provides an intramural program of the athletic activities as varied in scope as facilities will permit. Through participation in the Physical Education Club, the Dance Group and Women's Athletic Association, the major students receive professional development and leadership under the supervision of staff members.

Recently, efforts have been made by the department to advance the experiences of the major students in community after-school recreation programs. This new activity in the reach-out phase of the department does show promise for more student experiences in the future.

The Department of Library Service offers an undergraduate major in library service which can serve as an "open door to the profession." The program of studies meets the requirements for certification as a school media specialist, and it qualifies its graduates for immediate employment as library associates or library assistants in various other types of libraries.

Course-related activities and projects sponsored by the Library Service Club are intended to help the student "discover himself" and develop his potentialities.

The focus of efforts in the music division is centered on training young men and women to become choral and instrumental teachers in the public schools. The choral and instrumental organizations of the Department have performed in every large city in the state of South Carolina. The Marching 101 Garnet and Blue Band in past years has performed on National Television for professional football teams and this year has been invited by the New York Jets and the Baltimore Colts to perform during the half-time in the 1971 football season.

The School of Education

There are two outstanding artists in the art division: Mr. James L. McFadden and Dr. Leo Twiggs. Both of these persons have made impressive names for themselves in their special areas. Mr. McFadden enjoys a very fine reputation as an instructor in art education. Dr. Twiggs is recognized nationally as a fine Batik painter and recently has been highly praised by art critics and educators alike, for his art work with black under-privileged children.

A program leading to a major in Art Education is now pending approval by the State Commission on Higher Education.

The Department of Psychology has moved to a new location. It is currently housed in Wing D, Turner Hall on the third floor. This new facility and expansion include access to more classrooms, a modern psychological laboratory, and a testing room.

The psychological laboratory has space for an animal laboratory which will afford students and faculty to engage in operant behavior. This type of experimentation is expected to be in operation for the second semester, 1972.

The department also offers the available facility to the Counseling Center which serves as an adjunct to these services, and the staff and faculty who have training and experience in this discipline are encouraged to make use of the current psychological services for any type of research that may be related to individual interest.

Dr. Ruby Davis, Methods Instructor and Miss Trudelle Wimbush, Supervisor of Directed Teaching, discuss with Miss Frankie Brown, a phase of Unit "Mother Goose Rhymes".

The enrollment of the department has increased from eight in 1967-68 to 123 at the beginning of the 1971-72 school term.

The Felton Laboratory School is in its eighth year of operation in the facility that was constructed in 1964-65. It has a Nongraded Lower School that replaces the traditional five grades and includes the kindergarten, and middle school comprised of grades 6-8. Both organizational programs provide for the needs of the boys and girls at their particular level. There is a staff of 23 full-time persons and 3 part-time teachers from the college. As for the role of the laboratory school, it serves the college, the local community and the state.

School of Arts and Sciences

The School of Arts and Sciences has undergone many changes in the past year. One new department has been formed — Speech Pathology and Audiology. Two departments, Mathematics and Modern Languages, have moved into the new structure — Turner Hall "D" Wing. Three new department chairmen have been selected — Doctors Akpan, Iwok and Powell. The Department of Social Sciences has expanded its facilities by moving into the area in White Hall, formerly occupied by the Mathematics Department. The Speech Clinic has been enlarged in Turner Hall. A number of faculty members with their doctor's degree have been appointed — old ones have earned theirs and several on leaves of absence are expected to complete requirements before next year.

Last year we were talking about innovations and new programs. This year we are involved. New projects have been started, funded from outside sources — others are pending decision. Our staff is participating in community affairs — attending conferences — writing articles — doing research.

The Henderson-Davis Players and/or Drama majors are anxiously awaiting completion of the Speech and Drama Building after a final inspection. The Speech Clinic has been very active in giving speech evaluations to school children and adults from the industrial complexes surrounding Orangeburg. Bids are being submitted for the new 2.3 million dollar replacement of White Hall which will house, along with an auditorium and audio-visual aids center, the Departments of Mathematics and Social Sciences. The School of Arts and Sciences with its large faculty and student enrollment is making history.

School of Industrial Education and Engineering Technology

At a time when college students are making demands for relevancy in the college curriculum, it is difficult to find more relevant programs than those offered by the School of Industrial Education and Engineering Technology.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS EDUCATION — Excellent employment opportunities exist for Industrial Arts teachers. The public schools and colleges of South Carolina and other states are in constant need of securing qualified teachers for industrial arts classes. Because industrial arts teachers are in such a critical demand, in 1971 graduates from the school were able to choose from a number of school systems in many geographical areas and at impressive salaries. The need for well trained teachers in this area is expected to triple in the foreseeable future.

ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY — The School offers Engineering Technology programs which are in response to the urgent needs of industry. Our curricula in Civil, Electrical, and Mechanical Engineering Technology has been revised and updated to reflect ECDP accreditation standards. There are many rewarding opportunities for graduates from engineering technology programs. In 1971 more than two hundred companies sent personnel representatives to interview and recruit our students for permanent employment. Because of the critical shortage of engineering technicians, recent graduates could select employment from no less than six job offers each.

COOPERATIVE EDUCATION PROGRAM — A student enrolled in Engineering Technology may participate in the Cooperative Education Program. This program is a plan of education which permits a student to go to college and work in industry on an alternating basis. The employment is considered an essential element in the educational process, and the student is given an opportunity to use on an actual job what he learns in the classroom. Last summer several of our students completed their first work assignment at IBM in Research Triangle Park, North Carolina. We are proud of our Co-op students who are gaining meaningful occupational experience in jobs which were heretofore unavailable to them. This program is open to students completing their freshman and sophomore year.

LTC. Willie L. Johnson
Professor of Military Science

The Military Science Department has the mission of preparing college educated men to assume the duties of officers in the United States Army. Each member of the Military Staff is ever cognizant of this mission and is dedicated to its accomplishment.

Membership in various military organizations is available to those cadets that qualify. These organizations are the Advanced Course Club, the National Society of Scabbard and Blade, the National Society of Pershing Rifles, the Ranger Company, and the Rifle Team. The primary objective of these organizations is to promote good fellowship, manhood, and esprit de corps among prospective Army officers. The young ladies are not excluded since membership in the National Society of Pershing Capers, the Criterion Club; and the Coed Affiliates of Scabbard and Blade is available to qualified young ladies.

The Military Science Department, in conjunction with the Department of the Army, offers a variety of scholarships to those cadets that are interested and qualified. These scholarships pay all expenses incident to obtaining a college education, except room and board. During this school year, the Department had twenty-two cadets on scholarship. The breakdown of scholarships was: one four year, thirteen three year and eight two year.

The Department is preparing to make the 1972-73 school year an even greater success.

The School of Home Economics through four degree programs: Child Development and Pre-school Education and Home Economics Education, both of which are certified by the South Carolina State Department of Education; Food and Nutrition, certified by the American Dietetic Association; and General Home Economics provides study which enables the student to acquire broad preparation for life in a democratic society, to obtain a sound basis for his professional training, or to receive training in the specific skills required for service in his chosen field of endeavor.

The School of Home Economics moves forward in the use and exploration of the fascinating variety of media and innovations to meet the challenge of preparing students (male and female) for the 20,000 new career opportunities each year in home economics. Laboratories, equipment and lecture rooms located in Staley Building provide an organized atmosphere and realistic setting in which a student seek to fulfill his or her role.

Home Economics subject matter opens the door to creative approaches in the solution of problems that face families today. A primary goal is serving families; thus the whole world is a realm of activity for home economics. Home economists learn to understand the many and varied ways in which people react to each other and to their physical and social environment. They learn to understand and to work with the poor, the underprivileged, the aged, the very young as well as the in between age groups.

School of Graduate Studies

South Carolina State College was authorized by the South Carolina General Assembly to offer graduate work for the first time during the 1946-47 college term. In keeping with this authorization, a limited program of graduate work has been offered since that time. As rapidly as the college is equipped in certain areas, and as the demand for graduate work increases a graduate program will be extended to include all subjects and departments of the college.

At present, the basic purpose of the program of the school of Graduate Studies was approved by the Board of Trustees. This faculty is composed of professors and associate professors chosen principally from the School of Education and representatives from other schools offering minors in the graduate program.

The function of the faculty is to assist in establishing general policies for the graduate program, to teach courses that are included in the graduate offerings and to serve as members of the advisory committee of candidates for graduate degrees.

Admission to the School of Graduate Studies depends chiefly upon the applicant's evidence of ability to pursue successfully courses of graduate caliber.

ORGANIZATIONS

Student Government

The Student Government Association of South Carolina State College is the link of the students to the administrative body of the institution.

This year, the SGA, in a new era dedicated to progress in intercollegiate living and community responsibility thought it best to become included in the community by way of the Community Development Committee. Working with the pre-school children in the underprivileged neighborhoods of the city, the elderly citizens, and with local businessmen and members of the local Chamber of Commerce, communication was developed between the college and the community.

A total experience in blackness and political awareness was achieved through the presentation of such speakers as George Hamilton, the Reverend Arthur D. Sims, and James Clyburn. Efforts were made for the establishment of more political voice and power through the campaigning for local politicians who showed promise for beneficial efforts for the institution, as well as getting students to register to vote and exercise the new right to do so. Further political awareness was achieved through the petitioning for "free on bail" status to President Nixon and Governor Ronald Reagan, for political prisoner Angela Davis.

Another very important step made was that of presenting $10,000 to the College Development Fund for the purpose of scholarships in honor of Smith, Hammond and Middleton.

Alpha Phi Gamma Honorary Journalism Fraternity

Members of Alpha Phi Gamma earnestly believe that "the pen is mightier than the sword." Although it is just in its second year of organization, Alpha Phi Gamma has sought to sponsor and support those activities which help to maintain and improve the quality of student publications.

Its main event of the year was an award banquet honoring the two publications, the Bulldog and the Collegian. These organizations were cited for winning 1st and 2nd place respectively at the 21st Annual Savannah State College National Press Institute. Additionally, the editors of the two publications and outstanding members were honored.

Alpha Phi Gamma will continue to encourage talented young writers and other journalists to proclaim the truth via written expression.

Alpha Kappa Mu National Honor Society

Alpha Kappa Mu National Honor Society is an organization composed of men and women of superior abilities who have excelled academically in their various chosen fields. However, Alpha Kappa Mu does not regard grade getting as necessarily synonymous with scholarship — but rather encourages creative work, original investigation, and diligent studies. It presents the scholar as an individual who uses a superior mind to do socially desirable work for the service of mankind, school, and self.

It should be noted that there was a record number of inductees during the 1970-71 school year, a tribute to individual work and determination.

Kappa Kappa Psi National Honorary Fraternity

The brothers of Kappa Kappa Psi began their journey to what seemed an impossible goal on February 1, 1971. Since that date, "Dolce 22" colony of Kappa Kappa Psi has striven for the highest achievements in every area of music and human relations.

On December 14, 1971, installation of the "Zeta Eta Chapter" of Kappa Kappa Psi National Honorary Band Fraternity took place.

Installation was carried out by the Honorable Richard Rodean, Governor, District 8, of the fraternity; members of the Iota Chapter from the Georgia Institute of Technology, Atlanta; and the Alpha Sigma Chapter from the University of Tampa (Florida).

"The Zeta Eta Chapter", is the first chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi to be established in South Carolina on any campus, but the 151st in the nation.

Williams Hall Club

One of the deepest dimensions of campus life is sharing with others during our college years. waiting for a phone call — as a part of life at Williams Hall as well as throughout the entire campus. This year has encompassed our annual Christmas party and an open house program. As each year passes, the dimensions grow deeper and reflect on our life to come.

Panhellenic Council

Today, the Panhellenic Council still reigns as the driving force in promoting understanding and co-operation between fraternities and sororities. In today's everchanging society, with the need for increased inter-organizational harmony, the Greek organization that tends to uphold individualistic ideals is constantly diminishing from reality. Therefore, if Greek letter organizations are to survive and function amidst the ever-changing surroundings, some form of organizational mediation must be established. The Panhellenic Council proved to be a necessity. The council boasts membership from seven Greek organizations, with two members representing each respective organization. The Panhellenic Council will continue to promote the harmonious organizational relationships that have been so instrumental in ironing out past differences.

Blacks must see through the facade of political sham by which those who preached and perpetuated the philosophy of segregation now try to lure them into a political accommodation. The Black man's memory is not that short nor is judgment that shallow.

ATHLETICS

Football, 1971

ENTERING A NEW CONFERENCE PRESENTS NEW CHALLENGES

The 1971 Football Season was a very challenging year for the Mighty Bulldogs when they entered a new conference, the MID-EASTERN ATHLETIC CONFERENCE. The Bulldogs fought hard and achieved a 5-3-1 record, but the year did not end as successfully as we wished. However, the Bulldog's coach, Oree Banks was selected coach for the east in the first All-Star Game between predominantly Black schools. He had six players to participate. They were: Linebacker James Evans, defensive back Robert Hemby, offensive guard John Wade, running back Willie Aldridge and kicker Dennis Bailey.

This was a great experience for these seniors who played hard to a win 19-10 victory for the east.

The Bulldogs were happy to see two of their players chosen for professional teams during the 1972 College Draft. Willie Aldridge was drafted in the 10th round by the Minnesota Vikings and James Evans was drafted in the 14th by the New York Giants.

Coach Banks and staff are looking for a victorious season during the coming year. The coaching staff and the players who will return have pledged themselves to work in sweat to achieve this goal.

The Men with Experience

These men set the Bulldogs into action with their outstanding performances for four years. Through hard work, sweat, blood-shed, and the agony of defeat, these men withheld their ground. Many of them are looking for careers and others are just developing their God given skills. But these seniors will share precious memories of the four years as "MIGHTY BULLDOGS".

Shell, Razzie Smith, Sidney Savoy, and Darius McCarthy will be the voices of the future. These men will have a long hard road ahead of them but they can make it because they are MIGHTY BULLDOGS.

The Bulldogs went on to place fifth in the Mid-Eastern Atlantic Conference during regular season. They had two players to make all NAIA, Phil Stephens and Johnny Thornton. Tommy Boswell and Johnny Thornton made all MEAC and contributed greatly to a fighting season for the Mighty Bulldogs.

Coach Ben Jobe was defeated in the first round of the MEAC by Maryland State 80-77. But Coach Jobe looks forward to a comeback next season knowing what he will be up against. All the way with the "Mighty Bulldogs."

The 1972 Swimming Team — Still Victorious

The 1971-72 Aquadogs experienced their most complex and unpredictable season without the services of their formidable coach Roosevelt Holmes. Shaken by the loss of their coach, the Aquadogs began to rededicate themselves in an effort to overcome all obstacles. They regrouped under the leadership of Mr. Robert Bradley. Bradley, a former Aquadog himself was determined to foster a winning season out of the chaotic Aquadogs.

With the help of co-captains Charles Falana and Charles Lumpkin, the team slowly began to take shape. The team was few in number (7), but mighty in strength and tenacity. They took a dismal and bleak situation and turned it into a productive atmosphere. They compiled their first undefeated and untied conference season (6-0). Their overall record was (8-3) with losses to the audaciously powerful Augusta and Morehouse colleges.

The MEAC championship at Howard Univ. was the most exciting swimming spectacle in the history of State College swimming. Although the Aquadogs finished second to Morgan State, who had a 20 man team, they finished with a 7 point deficit (156-149). Ronald Smith and Gene White won 5 gold medals each. Both swimmers proved their weight in gold as they both swam splendidly. David Thomas and Charles Falana each won 3 gold medals in thrilling performances. Charles Lumpkin also won 3 gold medals on his way to his best performance of his career scoring an unthinkable 516 points on the 3 meter board. Oswald Phang and Tony Thomas rounded out the effort with numerous seconds and thirds. Tony Thomas and Charles Lumpkin qualified for the NCAA championship.

Many graduates of S. C. State attended the meet and their reply was unanimous, "a job well done." The team has two seniors leaving, David Thomas and Charles Falana. The Aquadogs will return next year to continue with the S. C. State winning tradition.

KNEELING: Roy Stills, Jimmy Grant, Raymond Grier. STANDING: Coach David Condon, Leonard Cherry, Emerson Wright, Kenny Southers.

Golfers Win SIAC Championship

Roy Stills finishes his swing with a high follow through.

The South Carolina State Golfers roared to a 18-0 season and the SEAC championship and also achieved third-place in the NAIA District 6.

Kenny Southers, the number one golfer on the South Carolina State team, sank a birdie three on the 18th hole to ease the Bulldogs past Florida A & M by one stroke to win the SIAC championship in Atlanta, Georgia.

FAMU led the Bulldogs 305-299 at the end of the first day's action but State came from six shots behind to win 609-608.

The South Carolina State's Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Champs then went to capture third place in the two-day NAIA District 6 golf tournament at Etowah, N. C.

Under the instructions of Coach Fred Collins the Bulldogs finished their season with a 18-1 record.

This year, under the coaching of Mr. David Condon and entering the new MEAC conference, the Bulldogs are looking forward to another spectacular season. Emerson Wright, the new captain of the Bulldogs says, "We can do it again although some of our players didn't return. But our new recruiters will take up the slack which we lost."

Emerson Wright shows the correct way to hit a chip shot.

Wrestling, A New Sport on Campus - 1971

KNEELING: Carver Ealy, William Dean, William Branham, Clarence Washington, Floyd Knox. BACK ROW: Arthur Tanner, Sidney Savoy, James Ragland, Charles Garrison.

When S. C. State entered the M.E.A.C. this year they were required to add to their athletic program a new sport, wrestling. In the first days of practice both Coach Carson and the team had high hopes for a winning season, but as time passed everyone found out that it was hard to win as a first year team. Not only was the sport new, so was the coach and all of his members, except four who had wrestled before.

The experienced members who laid hopes for this season and a better season next year were:

Charles Garrison	Sophomore	167 pounds
William Branham	Freshman	134 pounds
Sidney Savoy	Sophomore	190 pounds
Arthur Tanner	Freshman

Although this year ended in a 1-9 record, Coach Carson feels that this season is only a stepping stone to a winning season next year.

Track and Field Tries to Come Back in '72

The year of 1972 for the S. C. State Track Team will be one of great competition. With ten letter men returning from last year, under the supervision of a new coach, the team is looking for a winning season. Coach Milton Nicholson feels that his team will be strong in events that State in the past were weak.

With the help of new members, the team, he feels, should be extremely strong in long distance running, relays, middle distance running and hurdling.

The team has members such as Ronald Smith with potential of a 9.4—100 yard dashman. Edward Keith in long distance, who has worked hard to cut his time down tremendously. He also has a new running mate this year, Russell Noseworthy from Canada, who will put a spark in his team. Another Canadian and freshman, Lehman Walker, who has run 49.0 in the quarter mile will be running hard in the track events. Returning to his old team, Jesse Asmond will round out the field events with teammates Sinclair Abraham and also another freshman, Michael Francis. Leonard Oliver and a new teammate, James Gaines will run the high hurdles, with Darius McCarthy, Hercules Salley and Lucius Perkins running strong in the sprint events.

Coach Nicholson feels that his greatest competition will be North Carolina Central University which is known nation-wide for its tremendous track and field teams.

Track members are on the run.

Diamond Dogs Win Championship and the Coach was Named Coach of the Year

The mighty Bulldog baseball team rose to the occasion at Spring with a championship performance. Behind the magnificent coaching ability of Willie Simon, the Diamond Dogs compiled a 15-5 record overall. The conference standings had the Bulldogs number 1 with a 12-2 record and the NAIA standings placed the Bulldogs number 2.

The Bulldogs were led by the "big bats" of Charles Gadsen (.335), William Penn (.365), and Paul Comer (.315). Gadsen was voted to the All-District NAIA Team and Penn was an All-American Candidate. Dennis Bailey, although he had the worst year in his college career, led the team in RBI's to keep the attack going.

The Bulldogs pitching staff was led by South Paw Bennie MacMurray (7-2) who terrorized the opposing teams with a blazing curve and a sneaky fast ball. Following MacMurray were Bishop Garrison and Paul Comer each with a 4-2 record. The pitching staff received ample support from Birto Benjamin, Julius Bennett, Donnie Shell and Eddie Byrd.

Roosevelt Davis, Carlton Taylor and Lemuel Bloome combined to make the championship in field No. 1.

The outfield was held down by William Penn, Freddie Bostick and Bobby Harrington.

With the combination of all those present factors, the Bulldogs set and destroyed most of their foes. The stage was set for the Bulldogs by an early 5 game winning streak.

They took it all the way with their last year in the SIAC.

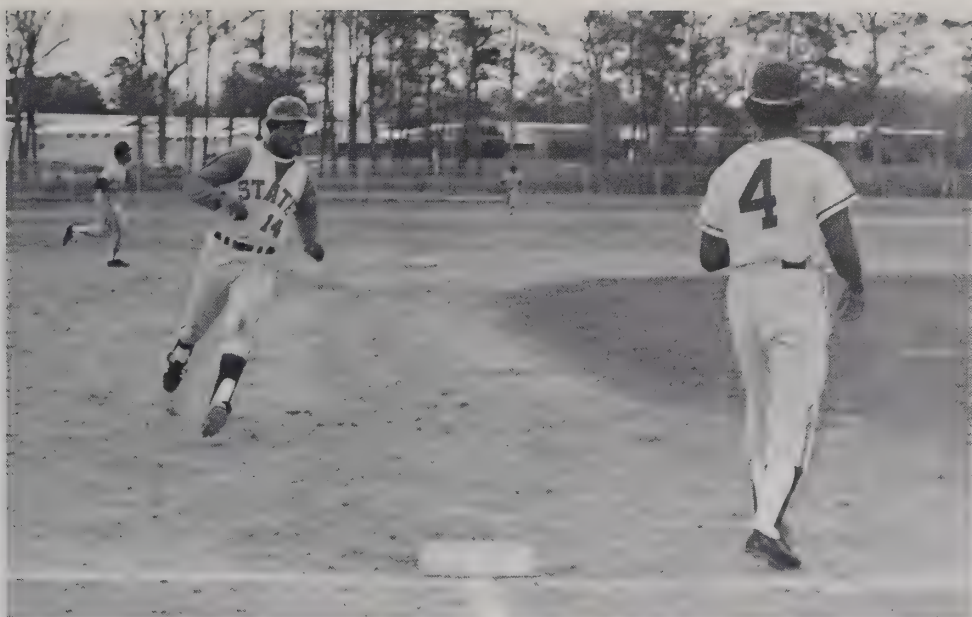

The Batting Brigade William Penn, Paul Comer, and Charles Gadsen take time out for a pose.

"The direction in which education starts a man will determine his future life..."

PLATO 347 B.C.

These words spoken over 2,000 years ago are still true. An education is an investment in the future, its importance cannot be overestimated.

We at First National salute you who graduate this year and wish you all possible success in your endeavors.

South Carolina State College Alumni Association

I DOUBT not God is good, well meaning, kind,
And did He stoop to quibble could tell why
The little buried mole continues blind,
Why flesh that mirrors Him must some day die,
Make plain the reason tortured Tantalus
Is baited by the fickle fruit, declare
If merely brute caprice dooms Sisyphus
To struggle up a never-ending stair:
Inscrutable His ways are, and immune
To catechism by a mind too strown
With petty cares to slightly understand
What awful brain compels His awful hand.
Yet do I marvel at this curious thing:
To make a poet black, and bid him sing!

When sleep comes down to seal the weary eyes,
The last dear sleep whose soft embrace is balm,
And whom sad sorrow teaches us to prize
For kissing all our passions into calm,
Ah, then, no more we heed the sad world's cries,
Or seek to probe th' eternal mystery,
Or fret our souls at long-withheld replies,
At glooms through which our visions cannot see,
When sleep comes down to seal the weary eyes.

Editor's Message

The years that I have matriculated at South Carolina State College have proven to be highly rewarding and have given me a satisfaction I have seldom experienced. ..

My involvement with the yearbook staff has brought me closer to the State College family and to the realization that work with cooperation is pertinent to the success of any organization.

A yearbook, our yearbook, is a compilation of activities and events to which we can refer in years to come. It also depicts the highlights of a school year that are unique to any institution. With a year so filled with activity, it was indeed a task to select the pictures and items that would truly be unforgettable in later years. We have tried to select those that portray a constantly growing and ever changing school.

The publication of a yearbook, requires the dedication, cooperation, and hard work of all people concerned with, or affected by, its publication. The staff, in spite, of differences or obstacles, worked diligently to bring to the South Carolina State College a yearbook that will be a cherished possession for years to come.
